

Vidmantas Tomkus

Vidmantas Tomkus received MS degree in Physics at Vilnius University. Starting 1985 he has worked at the Semiconductors Physics Institute of Academy of Sciences of Lithuania. In 1990 he started business activities as a broker at First Commodity Exchange "Lietuvos birza", and from 1994 until present time has worked at different positions in Telecommunications and Satellite industry like CTO at Radio M-1, CEO at JSC "Dicto Citius" and JSC "Arcus Novus".

In 2007 he was assigned as an Expert of Inter-ministerial Working groups of National Space Program, Integrated Programs in ICT, Mechatronics, Lasers, New Materials, Strategy of Research Infrastructures of Lithuania, Member of Council of Semiconductor Physics Institute and Chairman of National Space Technology Platform of Lithuania.

From 2009 Vidmantas Tomkus is acting as a director of Lithuanian Space Association and deals with promotion of Space related activities of Lithuanian R&D institutions and SME's, co-operation with European Space Agency, bilateral relations with National Space Agencies and companies working in the Space industry.

In 2010 he was assigned as EC Committee FP7 Space expert.