

Arminas Ragauskas

Arminas Ragauskas is professor of Kaunas University of Technology in Lithuania, Head of the Telematics (Biomedicine) Science Laboratory, Member of the Boards of the European Neurointensive Care Research Group “Brain + Information Technology” and the Association “Scientia Libera”. Arminas Ragauskas is a professional innovator and inventor. Author and co-author of more than 150 registered inventions including the US, EU, Japan and other national patents. Principal Investigator and Investigator of many R&D projects including grants of the US Dept. of Defence, the US Dept. of the Army, projects funded by the European Commission such as current FP7 projects “BrainSafe”, “AvertIT”, “TBICare”, “dynICP” , etc.