

Sergei Efimov

Sergei Efimov started his career as an engineer (senior engineer, head of group, deputy head of department) in 1973. He also participates in the activities of «MEDEO» project development in the framework of FP7. He has been working in the position of the head of department of Samara Space Centre.

He participated in the following global international projects: “Resurs-DK1”/ (experiment of installation complex “PAMELA” on board of “Resurs-DK1” spacecraft. «PAMELA» is meant for solving fundamental problems in the field of cosmology, cosmic-ray physics, physics of geosphere and near-Earth space environment); The joint program of ESA-scientific experiments conduction (ESA) on board of «FOTON-M» spacecraft within the bounds of the following European experiments: “STONE”, “BIOPAN”, “YES2” and others.