

Arunas Karlonas

Arūnas Karlonas has a Master Degree in Public Administration, gained at Vytautas Magnus University in Kaunas. Since 2010 he is a director of Agency for Science, Innovation and Technology (MITA). He actively participates in international arena. He is a Board Member, representing Lithuania, at European Network of Innovation agencies TAFTIE. He also is a Lithuanian representative at FP7 Space Committee. He takes an active role fostering innovation development in Lithuania, participating in Conference Ambassador's programmes, attracting foreign experts, business leaders, innovators and academia partners to visit and invest in Lithuania.