

Carlos Torres Sanchez

He studied a higher education in the Iberoamerican University, Puebla, Mexico, receiving the bachelor's degree in "Electronics engineering", got a participation in the "Mission XXI" Motorola's conquest, obtaining the 2nd national place, worked as project engineer in P.I. Mabe S.A. de C.V, Puebla, Mexico. I took part in the competition of Robotics in the Institute of Mechanics, Moscow State University, Russia, took part in the competition of Robotics in the Institute of Mechanics, Moscow State University, Russia. After that, I took the decision to study abroad, worked as head of design and estimate documentation department for the construction company Grupo Zoser SA DE CV, Oaxaca, Mexico. From November 2010 until the present time I'm pursuing a postgraduate course at the Aerospace Faculty in the Department of Systems Analysis and Control in the Moscow Aviation Institute, Moscow, Russia.